Closing The Global Education Gap:

Across the globe, an estimated 244 million children are out of school. Uganda is part of that story -- a country with one of the youngest populations in the world and a persistent gap between the value communities place on education and the financial reality of accessing it. True to Africa is one part of a global effort to close that gap, working child by child. Your sponsorship is not just support for one child -- it is participation in a worldwide movement toward a more educated, self-sustaining world.

Boarding Allows Students to Focus on School:

For many of our sponsored students, boarding comes down to two things: care and safety. Some students have no parents, family, or safe home to return to, so boarding becomes their housing and their care. For others, school is hours away over rural roads, and traveling those roads carries real danger for children in Uganda. Girls face extra risks making that journey. That's why True to Africa covers boarding fees for many sponsored students. Boarding gives our students a safe place to live and removes the unnecessary risks of traveling to and from school. It allows them to be focused on school instead of survival.
